

nervous but excited

undoubtedly rare talents.

"...blending progressive politics, sharp wit, and deep introspection with nuanced harmonies..." -Curve Magazine

Pleasantly Aggressive Folk Duo Nervous but Excited (Kate Peterson & Sarah Cleaver) is dead-on harmony: two songwriters, two singers, three guitars, a mandolin, a violin, a few harmonicas, some vaguely choreographed dancing and a lot of laughter. Their original repertoire ranges in topic from smart, introspective narratives to the tactfully political... and they still dabble a bit in the love/post-love variety every now and then.

In April 2009 they released Anchors: the first 100% carbon neutral CD release.

On Anchors, Kate and Sarah's unique vocal harmonies are enhanced by many talented players including Girlyman, Lyndell Montgomery and Chris Bathgate among others who joined them to color in the lines of the songs with a sweet-tasting assortment of warming-your-feet-by-the-fire-in-the-wintertime kind of instrumentation.

"kate and sarah deliver high-quality, intelligent tunes with the skill and passion of legendary folksingers in the making."

- Off Our Backs Feminist News Journal
